- Purpose (goals, objectives, need)
- Audience (type and size of target audience)
- Marketing/promotion (describe important elements)
- Role of each entrant for the project
- Extent to which project met goals and objectives (if that information is available)
- How diversity was incorporated into your entry. Since it’s not always possible to include diversity in each project, if diversity was not incorporated, explain its absence. In an effort to determine how well C&A entries are inclusive of all readers, we ask judges to consider: Does this project’s creative concept show consideration for inclusion of all members of a potentially diverse audience (people of various races, genders, socioeconomic classes and other points of human diversity)?
- Other information (production costs, special circumstances faced during production and any other details the judge should consider while evaluating your entry).
